

Built on the Power of Talon

Information Sharing Connector

TalonPoint allows participating agencies to query each other's law enforcement data systems and return results to a single client application. It provides real-time, secure access across multiple, disparate systems.

Local and Regional Data Sharing

TalonPoint can be configured to access information from any participating agency, allowing for local and regional data sharing. This ensures an accurate and complete picture of criminal behavior for data analysis, offender location, and apprehension using less time and resources than traditional law enforcement methods.
